Update of New Frankley Parish Councils powers

As the Parish Council does not own any land or property on Frankley.

The powers for all services on Frankley are the responsibility of the principal authority
Birmingham City Council.

The Parish Council has a list of services it can administer subject to the principle authority devolving them down

There is one problem that stands in its way.
The principal authority are required to devolve any MONEY that is spends maintaining that service down with the powers.

Birmingham has up to now been unable to do this.

Residents are reminded that this years council tax

Are Birmingham £ 2237.00 Frankley Parish £34.66
